

About Us

Civitiium is a consulting firm that provides business, technology and public policy services to local governments, state agencies and high-technology industry leaders.

info@civitiium.com

Civitiium has served as the lead advisor on a range of broadband and technology matters for more than 100 local governments, regional authorities, state agencies and high-tech industry leaders across five continents. From dense urban cities, to regional areas, to rural communities, our knowledge and insight has helped our clients make better decisions, produce tangible results, and accomplish more with less. Our focus and objectivity uniquely qualifies us to be expert, trusted advisors - throughout the life-cycle of community technology projects.

DRIVING INNOVATION IN BUSINESS, TECHNOLOGY & PUBLIC POLICY

What We Do

- Broadband and technology master planning
- Feasibility studies
- Network architecture and design
- Economic and social impact assessments
- Requirements definition
- Funding analysis and grant assistance
- Broadband mapping and market analysis
- Financial analysis and business case development
- Asset inventory and valuation
- Project management and oversight

